Intent

1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place.
- Prepare pupils for puberty and give them an understanding of development and the importance of health and hygiene.
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy.
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships.
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies.
- Teach in an adaptive and appropriate manner to reflect the different genders, those with different sexual orientation and the different ages and levels of maturity of the pupils being taught.
- Enable young people to make responsible and well-informed decisions about their lives.

- Be firmly rooted within PSHE and the curriculum.
- Be part of lifelong learning about physical, moral and emotional development.
- Enable children to develop an understanding of the importance of a stable family life, stable and loving relationships, respect, love and care.

In addition, the wider personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) and Emotional health and Wellbeing curriculum aims to:

Enable children to become healthy, independent and responsible members of their community and the wider society.

- Encourage our pupils to play a positive role in contributing to the life of the school and the wider community.
- Help develop their sense of self-worth, identity and confidence.
- Teach them how society is organised and governed.
- Ensure that they experience the process of democracy in school through the election and membership opportunities provided through School Council, class and whole school roles and responsibilities.
- Encourage children to foster an understanding of the economic responsibilities of adults around them.
- Foster positive relationships with their peers and families.
- Teach them how to stay safe and healthy in an age appropriate and adaptive way.
- Create positive mental wellbeing culture in which children build resilience, self-esteem, and character.
- Provide children with a mindfulness 'toolbox' enabling children to manage everyday stresses.
- Actively teach strategies to facilitate positive relationships, problem solving strategies and behaviour through 'Developing Relationships' sessions
- Actively teach skills to promote oracy and develop speaking and listening development

2. Statutory requirements

As a maintained primary school, we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We are not required to provide sex education, but we do need to teach the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

Under the legal duties of the 2010 Equality Act we will ensure that where appropriate, all protected characteristics will be recognised and acceptance taught as an embedded aspect in all we do including: disability; gender reassignment; marriage and civil partnership; pregnancy and maternity; race; religion or belief; gender; sexual orientation.

At Whitby Heath Primary School we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – our RSE Lead researched and gathered all of the relevant information, including current and relevant national and local guidance.

2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations.
3. Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE curriculum via school ambassadors.
4. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to offer feedback about the policy.
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified in March 2021.
6. Further review, update and ratification was carried out in Spring term 2023 with further review in the Autumn to combine with the PSHE policy.

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

Implementation

- Care will be taken to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances.
- Learners will be given accurate information and helped to develop skills to enable them to understand difference and respect themselves and others with a view to preventing and removing prejudice.
- Relationship education will contribute to promoting the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at school and preparing pupils for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life.
- Relationship education should teach young people to understand relationships and to respect themselves and others.
- It will enable young people to mature, to build up their confidence and self-esteem and understand increasingly complex relationships.
- There will be a graduated, age-appropriate program of relationship education. Teaching methods will take account of the developmental differences of children.

5. Content and delivery

5.1 What we teach

As stated above, we're required to cover the content for relationships-and health education, as set out in the statutory guidance (linked to above).

Our RSE curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner, so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings

- How a baby is conceived and born as per the science curriculum

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1 and overview of what children must learn by the of KS2 in Appendix 2.

For other aspects of PSHE, including health education, see the attached curriculum map for more details about what we teach in each year group. This is supplemented by additional resources to promote emotional health and wellbeing, as well as developing specific skills in problem solving, managing relationships and oracy.

5.2 How we teach PSHE

- PSHE lessons will take place weekly through either specific PSHE sessions following the Kapow scheme of work or through our bespoke 'Developing relationships' sessions specifically tailored to cohorts depending on needs.
- Some aspects of our PSHE curriculum will be taught in other subject areas such as science or PE (health) or through computing (e-safety). There will also be relevant content included in whole school events such as assemblies.
- The curriculum will primarily be delivered by teaching staff in school, though on occasion, specialist health or other professionals from relevant organisations may be brought in as visitors to school to enhance and enrich the delivery of the curriculum.
- All pupils will have access to age-appropriate delivery of the PSHE and the Emotional Health and Wellbeing curriculum, regardless of ability or special educational needs and/or disability, through appropriately adapted lessons and resources.
- All staff will receive training in how to approach controversial or sensitive topics. To support this, high quality resources are used that are quality assured by Kapow in line with the PSHE association.
- Assessment will be carried out throughout lessons using benchmarking activities and targeted, age-appropriate questioning. This will be monitored internally to ensure that teaching meets the appropriate standard and is consistent across school.
- Children's progress in PSHE and Emotional Health and Wellbeing will be monitored in class and reported to parents as appropriate.

5.3 How we teach RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum. Biological aspects of RSE are taught within the science curriculum, and other aspects are included in religious education (RE).

Pupils also receive stand-alone sex education sessions delivered by a trained professional from a community interest company with a focus on how children's bodies will change as they grow up.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

Families and people who care for me

Caring friendships

Respectful relationships

Online relationships

Being safe

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

6. Roles and responsibilities

6.1 The governing body

The governing body will approve the RSE and PSHE policy and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

6.2 The headteacher

The headteacher is responsible for ensuring that RSE and PSHE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from [non-statutory] components of RSE (see section 7).

6.3 RSE/PSHE Coordinator and strategic Wellbeing Team

The RSE/PSHE coordinators at Whitby Heath are Mrs G Beach and Mrs Elizabeth Batey and they are responsible for:

Planning and coordination of the RSE curriculum ensuring coverage in-line with that required by the National Curriculum.

Planning and coordination of the PSHE and Wellbeing curriculum ensuring coverage in-line with that required by the National Curriculum.

Providing training for staff to ensure consistent and age-appropriate delivery of the curriculum.

Monitoring and supporting staff in the delivery and assessment of the curriculum.

Working as part of the Wellbeing team to ensure that all areas within the remit of this policy are implemented and impact monitored.

6.4 Staff

Staff are responsible for:

Delivering RSE, PSHE and Wellbeing curriculum in a sensitive way

Modelling positive attitudes to RSE, PSHE and Wellbeing

Monitoring progress

Responding to the needs of individual pupils

Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [non-statutory] components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

6.5 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE, PSHE and Wellbeing session. When discussing issues related to RSE, PSHE and mental health, they are expected to treat others with respect and sensitivity.

7. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from any [non-statutory] components of sex education within RSE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 4 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher. There will then be opportunity to discuss this with either the headteacher or the RSE coordinator so that any concerns can be discussed fully and an informed decision can be reached.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

A copy of withdrawal requests will be placed in the pupil's educational record. The headteacher will discuss the request with parents and take appropriate action.

8. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher may also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

9. SEND and Inclusion

At Whitby Heath we have high expectations of all our pupils. However, we recognise that for some pupils, additional support is needed to ensure they can access tasks and retain key learning. Tasks are adapted or scaffolded to ensure that they provide suitable challenges that focus on the learning in RSE and PSHE and remove any barriers to learning. Teachers use their pupil passports and appropriate assessments to help inform their planning. This way, a person-centered approach ensures progress is made and learning is personalised.

We want all learning to support independence wherever possible. Teachers will plan lessons so that pupils with SEND are able to successfully access the key content of the RSE and PSHE curriculum and ensure that no ceiling is placed on their learning and what they can achieve. Promoting independence, we allow the children to feel a sense of equality and belonging in their classroom environment.

Where appropriate, the following strategies could be used for pupils with SEND:

Task Adaptation

- Opportunities for overlearning key knowledge.
- Technology used for recording information.
- Use of concrete resources.
- Voice recordings or pictorial representations of step-by-step instructions.
- Voice recordings or pictorial representations of responses.
- Screen shots and photographs.
- Peer support in articulating own views and opinions.

Scaffolding

- Modeling specifically for a small group of children.
- Vocabulary mats highlighting specific vocabulary for a task.
- Broken down instructions for a task.
- Sentence stems from board/worksheet.
- Task organizer.
- Use of concrete resources.
- Further questioning.
- Additional focused explanations.
- Precision teaching of key knowledge.
- Additional oracy opportunities.
- Peer support.

Many aspects of the PSHE and RSE curriculum are already well adapted to some learners with additional needs as there is less of a requirement for written responses and focus is on discussion. However, there are still children for whom this presents a challenge who must be considered during planning.

Higher Attainers

Opportunities for higher attainers to take learning deeper are planned throughout the curriculum. Open ended tasks and high quality first teaching ensure that learning is taken deeper. Enrichment opportunities are planned throughout the year for further opportunities to discuss topics covered in RSE and PSHE allowing pupils to share more widely and deepen their own and others' understanding.

Impact

Effective relationship education will be achieved through a whole-school approach, which will ensure that the school's policy and educational programme is tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the children. Staff will be given appropriate training and support to carry out their work sensitively.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE and PSHE is monitored by the RSE/PSHE coordinators, Mrs G Beach and Mrs E Batey through:

- Learning walks
- Pupil voice
- Spotlight coaching sessions

Pupils' development in RSE and PSHE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by Mrs G Beach and Mrs E Batey, the RSE coordinator, annually. At every review, the policy will be approved by the governing body and the headteacher.
